

Dr. Martin L. King Day of Service, January 18, 2010

On Monday, January 18, 2010, Valley Forge National Historical Park hosted a Day of Service in honor of Dr. Martin L. King Jr. Almost 100 volunteers from such organizations as GlaxoSmithKline; Vanguard Group; Boy Scouts of America Devon Troop 45; Lockheed Martin; Young Friends of Valley Forge Park and individual park volunteers came out to lend a hand.

Volunteers help accomplished several maintenance projects throughout the park such as:

Cleaned the interior and exterior wood work at the Bake House and removed debris and leaf duff from the exterior drainage features surrounding the house

Cleaned and apply linseed oil to the four peak wooden Story Tellers Benches

Extended 70 feet of split rail fencing at Washington's Headquarters Area Train Station

Painted about 20 new shutters for Maxwell's Quarters

Restored 16 wooden and iron benches for the Washington Headquarters Train Station Area

Mulched 100 newly planted trees

Special thanks to all the volunteers for making this day a great success.
